Today's Agenda:

- Challenges in the Current Social Media Approach
- Defining Our Objectives
- Strategic Blueprint for Success
- Proposed Content Buckets

Current Social Media Challenges

Overemphasis on Branded Content:
Branded content ---> Brand Presence
~~Increasing followers & Expanding Reach~~

Outdated Posting Strategy:
The daily posting approach no longer suits modern algorithms. Similarly, maintaining an aesthetic grid by posting three posts at once impacts both audience engagement and algorithm performance, reducing it.

Sole Focus on Content Creation:
While high-quality content is essential, equal focus must be placed on promoting that content. Current algorithms don't organically amplify content; strategic promotion is crucial for visibility and engagement.

Our Objective

To prioritize increasing followers and engagement, leveraging DP Jewelers' 84-year legacy and 10-store presence.

The goal is to establish DP as a nationally recognized brand that every individual considers before making a jewelry purchase.

Core 6-goal Strategy

- Ensure all content aligns with the core brand essence for relevance and consistency.
- Position the brand as a timeless symbol of elegance appealing to all generations.
- Go beyond viewership; aim for content that fosters personal connections and deeply resonates with the audience.
- Position the brand as a trusted and versatile option for life's important moments.
- Drive organic reach and build a loyal community through shareable content.
- Move beyond traditional branded content to create more meaningful connections.

3 Campaign:

#ForEveryGeneration

The Concept

The #ForEveryGeneration theme highlights the timeless appeal of DPJ's jewelry, resonating with all age groups. This adaptable core message can evolve monthly or based on trends and occasions.

For example, "Something New for Every Generation" is perfect for New Year or January, focusing on fresh designs that blend tradition with modernity. In February, the message could shift to "Love for Every Generation," aligning with Valentine's Day and the theme of timeless bonds.

This dynamic approach allows DPJ to stay relevant and engaging, balancing modern trends with classic elegance to appeal to a broad demographic.

Stories That Speak to Every Generation

Story 1

Grandmother and Granddaughter

A grandmother is sitting at dpj and exploring jewelry.

Her granddaughter, sitting next to her, asks: हम हमेशा यहीं से ही क्यों ज्वेलरी लेते हैं? ऐसा क्या खास है यहाँ?

The grandmother smiles and replies, क्योंकि मेरी माँ भी यहीं से ज्वेलरी लेती थीं। और देखो, यहाँ तुम्हारे लिए भी कितनी अच्छी ज्वेलरी ऑप्शन्स हैं।

The granddaughter's face lights up with a smile, and the camera slowly pans from her joyful expression to reveal the DPJ logo.

Story 2

Never Too Late - Old Resolutions

The video begins with a close-up shot of a calendar, where "2025" is written in bold letters. The camera pans out, revealing a boy standing in front of his mother, holding a beautiful piece of jewelry from DP Jewellers.

He smiles and hands it to her, as she looks at him with a warm, loving expression. The boy then reaches for a diary from 2018, flips through the pages, and opens it to a section labeled "2018 Resolutions.

He pauses, looking at the list of aspirations — "Learn guitar," "Read one book every month," and so on. His fingers hover over the list, and then he cuts off one particular resolution: "Buy a beautiful piece of jewelry for Mom.

The camera lingers on this moment as he cuts through the words with a sense of accomplishment. He smiles at his mother, who is now holding the jewelry, and the screen fades to the DP Jewellers logo

A Gift of Generations

The video begins with a warm, intimate scene of a son gently holding his newborn baby in his arms. As he walks towards his mother, a sense of tradition and love fills the air. He lovingly presents her with a beautiful silver/gold "kada" (bangle), carefully placing it on her wrist. The mother's face lights up with a joyful smile as she admires the thoughtful gift.

As the camera focuses on her expression, she reaches for a precious heirloom "kada" — one that has been passed down through generations. With a loving touch, she carefully places it on the baby's tiny wrist, symbolizing the timeless bond between mother, son, and the future generation.

The screen then fades to the DP Jewellers logo, with a message: A Gift of Generations.
